

Vision Rehabilitation Therapists (VRT):

Restoring Independence for Individuals with Vision Loss

What might I do as a VRT?

- Show a senior citizen with low vision how to email a grandchild
- Teach a college student to read a Braille menu
- Train an elderly man to identify, organize and label his medications
- Help a young woman select a coordinated outfit for a job interview
- Teach a bachelor to tactually distinguish between two cleaning products
- Explain to a teenager how to use customer service at the grocery store
- Describe to a totally blind adult how to safely remove a casserole from the oven
- Demonstrate to a third grader how to use a magnifier to read directions for a game

TSBVI

Why would I like this job?

- Make a major difference in the lives of individuals who have lost their vision
- Use creative solutions to solve individuals' vision loss issues
- Experience something different every day
- Meet people from all walks of life
- Collaborate with other professionals
- Enjoy professional development opportunities

Not a desk job

Job & skill portability

How do I become a VRT?

- Must have a Bachelor's degree (in any field)
- Master's degree or Graduate Certificate in Vision Rehabilitation Therapy is usually required
- Program of study includes 3 to 4 semesters of graduate classes plus practicum & internship hours
- Many universities offer distance education classes as well as on-campus programs of study

Grants and/or stipends for tuition often available

Association for Education and Rehabilitation of the Blind and Visually Impaired

Where would I work as a VRT?

- Homes of individuals who are blind or visually impaired
- Rehabilitation centers
- Hospitals
- Assisted living and nursing home facilities
- Schools

100% job placement

Potential employers include but are not limited to:

- State agencies
- Veterans Administration
- Private non-profit agencies
- Private contracting
- School systems
- Universities
- Rehabilitation centers

Positions available worldwide

For more information:

Association for Education and Rehabilitation of the Blind and Visually Impaired

1703 N. Beauregard St., Suite 440

Alexandria, VA 22311

Phone: 703-671-4500

Fax: 703-671-6391

aer@aerbvi.org

www.aerbvi.org

Facebook: www.facebook.com/groups/aerbvi

Twitter: www.twitter.com/aerbvi

LinkedIn: www.linkedin.com/company/aer_2

Where jobs are — AER Job Exchange: www.aerbvi.org

For certification requirements:

Academy for Certification of Vision Rehabilitation and Education Professionals (ACVREP)

4732 N. Oracle Road, Suite 217

Tucson, AZ 85705

Phone: 520-887-6816

Fax: 520-887-6826

www.acvrep.org